SUMMARY

Senior Product Marketing Manager with 6+ years across payments, digital banking, remittances, and gaming fintech. Founding product marketer at three fintech startups. I turn complex products into clear positioning and messaging, then build the websites, sales materials, videos, and demos that help people understand them.

EXPERIENCE

ZBD | B2B fintech | Remote — May 2025 – Present

Senior Product Marketing Manager

Licensed fintech providing payments, payouts, and rewards infrastructure for game studios and publishers.

- Repositioned ZBD from consumer Bitcoin branding to premium B2B fintech, supporting its $40M Series C. Created "The Money Layer for Games" positioning, now the headline on ZBD's homepage.
- Built ZBD's first company-wide messaging system across four products, aligning Marketing, Business Development, Product, and Compliance on one set of positioning, naming, tone of voice, and commercial claims.
- Created the Money In, Money Through, Money Out lifecycle to explain how ZBD's products work together; leadership adopted it across sales decks, the homepage, and the August 2026 platform launch.
- Developed a 15-segment ideal customer profile framework and turned research from 195 game studios into case studies and sales proof points.
- Led Gamescom 2026 marketing across four product pages, a product video, and a playable demo of pre-launch payment flows used in live sales conversations.
- Built a Claude-powered intelligence system tracking 29 competitors and 90+ target accounts, turning market news and HubSpot data into automated executive briefings for sales prioritization.

Finfare | B2B and B2C digital banking and investments | Irvine, CA — Feb 2024 – Jan 2025

Product Marketing Manager

- Led go-to-market for two products, digital banking and automated investing, translating 30+ customer interviews and six personas into positioning, messaging, and launch plans.
- Increased website engagement 36% and conversion 24% by leading a 20-page redesign with Product and UX.
- Built messaging and sales enablement for Finfare Rewards, supporting a network of 3,000+ merchant partners.
- Helped secure The Bank of Missouri's first fintech partnership by positioning Finfare's platform security and stability for banking partners.

WireBarley | B2B2C cross-border payments | Los Angeles, CA and Vancouver, BC — Jun 2020 – Jan 2024

Product Marketing Manager

First US marketing hire. Joined as Marketing Analyst; promoted to Lead Marketing Analyst, then Product Marketing Manager.

- Generated $40M in holiday remittance volume with English and Korean campaigns, helping make WireBarley the Korean American market leader.
- Lifted first-transfer conversion among customers aged 50+, the most profitable segment, from 20% to nearly 50% with a Korean-language TV commercial built from support call insights.
- Delivered 300% year-over-year US growth on 40% of the previous year's North American marketing budget.
- Improved conversion to first transfer 43% and cut customer acquisition costs 45% year over year through A/B testing and AI-assisted copy across email, social, ads, and product.
- Scaled the Nepal corridor to $5M in peak weekly remittance volume and 300% year-over-year transaction growth through product improvements and partnerships.
